Commission

To Recommend

Zoning Changes

The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission will make a recommendation to the city council to approve two zoning changes for the purpose of commercial property development.

McDonald Realty Co. requested that a portion of property on Highway 90 be changed from R-3 (Multiple Dwelling) to B-1 (commercial) with the purpose of selling the land to Riemann General Homes for the construction of a new funeral home in Bay St. Louis. The portion of the land is between Dunbar Ave. and the present site of the Frostop Drive-In.

Another request, made by St. Loicano Sr. to change a portion of property on the corner of Dunbar and Main streets from R-2 (duplex) to B-1 (commercial limited) will allow Loicano to open a children's clothing store in a building located on the property.

Loicano assured the commission that he would provide adequate parking for the store and plans to remodel the building.

Both hearings were held Tuesday night.

Grand Jury Wants Federal Investigation

The Hancock County Grand Jury has requested a Federal investigation into the possible misuse of federal funds following Hurricane Camille.

In the report submitted to Judge Harry G. Walker, the jury noted that although previous grand juries have called for similar investigations, there has been no report of any action taken on the requests.

The jurors also recommended that the Board of Supervisors provide sufficient funds to employ an additional deputy in the sheriff's department. Noting that there is only one deputy on each eight-hour shift, the jury pointed out that this fact "is little comfort to the citizens of Hancock County with crime on the increase."

After inspecting the courthouse, the jury recommended that supervisors study the feasibility of air-conditioning the courtroom and installing a central telephone-switchboard in the courthouse.

The following report was submitted to Judge Walker: TO THE HONORABLE HARRY G. WALKER, CIRCUIT JUDGE PRESIDING: We, the Grand Jury, having been duly empaneled, sworn and charged at the July 1972

Term, now beg leave to submit this our final report.

We have been in session for four(4) days, during which time we have considered twenty (20) cases, examined twenty-six (26) witnesses, and returned nineteen (19) indictments.

COURTHOUSE INSPECTION We have made an inspection of the Hancock County Courthouse, and we find that the Courthouse is in fair condition. We, the grand jury, recommend that particular attention be paid to the installation of an air conditioning system in the court room and we fully support all measures already taken to effect this installation. We the grand jury recommend that the Board of Supervisors ascertain the possibility of installing a central telephone switchboard in the Court House to handle all the incoming calls in order that persons who call the Courthouse can be connected with the proper office immediately. The Grand Jury recommends that the Board of Supervisors look into the matter of overloaded electrical circuits to the Courthouse and install sufficient circuits to meet the current needs for electrical power in the courthouse; fuses are being blown too often.

JAIL INSPECTION We the grand jury have inspected the jail and find the jail in fair condition, but again recommend that the mesh screens on the outside of the jail be replaced. The grand jury recommends that the roof

Summer Village Opens

Forty children from ten countries have converged on Gulf Park College in Long Beach this week to further the growth of attitudes favorable to peace in the form of the Children's International Summer Village.

Delegations from Canada, Costa Rica, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the Philippines, Sweden, and the U.S. (Philadelphia, Pa.) were settled on the Coast Monday. Twenty villages are being conducted in various parts of the world this summer with the same spirit of bringing 11 year olds together to seek a common goal of peace through the realization that differences parting them are less important than the likenesses binding them together.

The children will live together for four weeks with adult and junior counselors, and Ernest Wheaton, camp director, of Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Steven Kohl of Pass Christian is the local village committee chairman. The village director is Dr. Donald Rayner, and the village nurse is Mrs. Hazel Sheffield.

Children of 11 have been chosen as delegates because they are big enough to be away from home and to understand the purpose of being brought together and small enough to accept each other without prejudice. Being relatively stable physiologically, they can adequately accept climatic, food and other physical changes. Eleven-year-olds are old enough, however, to carry the stamp of their respective cultures. They represent enough differences to give a true international character to a camp.

The first CISV was organized in 1951 in Cincinnati, Ohio, by American child psychologist, Dr. Doris Twitchell Allen. The

City To File Suit Against Getman

Bay St. Louis city council agreed Monday night to file suit in chancery court against Robert Getman for the removal of a warehouse-type building on Engman Ave. in the Cedar Point area.

According to Commissioner William Frisbie, who made the motion to file suit, the building is not in compliance with the city's building code regulations for a residential neighborhood and should come down.

In his request for a building permit, Getman requested permission to build a garage. "What he has built looks more like a warehouse," Frisbie said.

Mayor Warren Carver pointed out that action will be taken in city court against Getman for violation of a city ordinance which prohibits such construction in a residential neighborhood. Frisbie said however, that although Getman may receive a fine of up to $150 per day if he is found guilty, this does not mean that the building will come down. Also, Frisbie emphasized that a suit in chancery court will prevent the re-sale of the property to an unsuspecting buyer.

The council also approved a short term loan in the amount of $35,000 for the renovation of Bay Junior High. The work will include the installation of fire escapes, waterproofing and general cleaning of the building.

Mayor Carver voted against the loan proposal "because of the city's bad financial situation."

In other action, two ordinances dealing with use of the sand beach in Bay St. Louis were passed. One ordinance prohibits the erection of any temporary structures on the beach including tents, trailers and lean-tos and overnight camping and sleeping. The other prohibits the construction of any permanent buildings, except piers and wharves, on the beach from St. Charles St. south to the corporate line and from State St. north to the corporate line.

Mayor Carver voted against the second ordinance because he would like to have included the area between State and St. Charles streets. Both ordinances carry a fine of up to $100 and - or 30 days in jail.

The council voted unanimously to discontinue trash pickup at the business establishments in the city. Mayor Carver said it would be too costly to make trash collections at every business every week and that only a fraction of the businesses were now using the service.

Commissioner Andre Arceneaux objected to Mayor Carver's proposal to publish reports accompanying the city's annual audit, because he said, "the reports are misleading in their suggestions to the city."

"Pointing out that many of the corrective measures suggested by the auditing firm are already being done by city officials and therefore the report would be incorrect in some areas. Claiming that the people had a right to know what was going on, Mayor Carver made the motion but it died for lack of a second.

The council also agreed to hire an independent street sweeper to clean all streets in the city with curbs and gutters.

by Adores Shortle
Echo Staff Writer

Mrs. Arnette Giles has recently returned from another trip to Washington, D.C., where she taped an episode of a television series for the National Broadcasting Company.

Mrs. Giles was asked to do the network show with one of her daughters, Faye, at the request of an official of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in line with her many years of volunteer work with retarded children and elderly people.

While in Washington, Mrs. Giles also conferred with H.E.W. officials concerning the needs of the children in the Hancock County School for Special Education.

In an interview with the Sea Coast Echo, the 71-year-old Pearlinton resident who, after some 50 years of constant community service was catapulted into national limelight, spoke of public reaction to her winning the 1971 Volunteer of the Year Award from the National Center for Voluntary Action.

She has been hurt, she said quietly, by criticism of some members of the community who have accused her of seeking personal publicity.

"I want to thank you," she said, "for all the publicity that the paper has given me for my activities with the children. We've tried to be friends and help in and out of our homes over the years."

"But I was not seeking 'one woman publicity' as some unscrupulous people around the county are implying. My only aim is to help the unloved, rejected, scorned children that most people shrug their shoulders and pass by. I try to help them find some happy useful hours and be able to live with people and not in a cold institution."

Mrs. Giles reiterated a statement she made at the time President Nixon presented her the award at a spectacular banquet in the nation's capital last February.

"Personally I do not like or want publicity," she said. "I was just a plain, black woman going about my work in a quiet manner, seeking no reward nor laurel of any kind, until I was nominated as a contestant in the NCVA contest by Mayor Warren Carver, who was for many years president of the Hancock Association for Retarded Children. It was Mr. Carver who gave me my first chance to serve as a volunteer."

Mrs. Giles at first objected to the public attention she began to receive but acquiesced when she was assured that the publicity might focus governmental attention on the struggling school and the children she had been sheltering and teaching for 13 years.

She stated, "Little did I dream that I would win and that I would be honored by the President of the United States of America and by people all over the world who sent congratulations!"

Speaking of the NBC show she and Faye taped June 30, Mrs. Giles explained that the episode, titled "Neighbors" was written to "inspire other people to help their neighbors, where ever you are with just what you have."

On the screen, she urged viewers to "give your time, your love, your tolerance and understanding. Money and higher education are helpful but you do not have to be rich to be a good and helpful neighbor nor does the color of your skin make a difference."

Mrs. May Beyer, executive secretary of the Hancock United Fund chapter, accompanied Mrs. Giles and Faye to Washington as she had done on the two previous trips.

Following the taping, in a lengthy session with four top HEW officials, Mrs. Giles answered numerous questions about the school in Clermont Harbor and its students.

The men were particularly interested in funding for the school, which, until late 1971, was totally financed by the United Fund and an occasional gift from civic organizations.

"I told them that the United Fund gave the school $4,000 a year which paid the salaries of three teachers (Mrs. Giles, her granddaughter Mrs. Iris Hughes and Mrs. Ruth Summers.) We also served as bus drivers and janitorial service. I told them that for 10 years the school staff numbered two until two years ago when Iris joined us and we became three," Mrs. Giles recounted.

Continuing, she told the HEW administrators that last year the county school system took in the educable retarded children but according to the County Superintendent, Kenneth McCarty, the county could not do anything for the trainable children, except give them a classroom and free school lunches.

All the children were tested at the clinic in Gulfport and the student body split into two groups. Through federal funding the county hired a qualified special education teacher and assigned Mrs. Summers to her as an aid.

The Retarded Children's Assn. continued to pay Mrs. Giles and Mrs. Hughes and assumed all expenses for the trainable children who were not admissible in the county system.

"I also told the HEW officials that we were not considered qualified teachers and when they asked how long we had worked with the children I told them 13 years. They asked me if I had had any special training and I told them that Iris, Mrs. Summers and I had driven 80 miles a night to take child psychology, special education and other courses at the University of Southern Mississippi on the Jeff Davis campus in Gulfport."

Last week, Mrs. Giles said she received a call from one of the officials, a Mr. Phillips, who told her that she and Iris Hughes were very much qualified in the eyes of the Dept. of Education to teach and work with the trainable children.

He asked her that she write him in detail all the things that the children in the school needed. Phillips assured Mrs. Giles and Mrs. Beyer, to whom he also spoke, that help would be forthcoming soon from HEW.

An intensely religious person, Arnette Giles offers this advice to those who feel disgruntled and who are quick to criticize others: "Just start talking to Jesus and ask His guidance. Oh, I'm not a saint. I've made many mistakes. Make some every day, but I'm trying to plant my footprints in the sands of time."

"If you would like to leave your footprints, stop talking and start walking for it's later than you think. The Lord will give you equal pay even if you come in at the eleventh hour. Where ever there's suffering humanity, you and I should get involved. So look yourself square in the face and begin where you are. The harvest is great, and the workers are few...they do need you and I."

The Living Hell Of Alcoholism

by Marileen Maher
Echo News Editor

"For alcoholics, alcohol is a terrific poison. They know it. Still, they are driven to take it, to unbelievable excess. It only makes things worse. They know that, too. The outward expression of their sickness is that, knowing all this, they can't stop." — Alton Blakeslee

How does it feel to wake up

PART TWO

every morning desperately sick but with an overwhelming craving for alcohol? How does a man feel after he's beaten his wife and taken money from her purse to buy a bottle of bourbon? How does a woman feel after she's pawned her wedding ring to buy a bottle of gin? If you've never experienced these things, you can only imagine; you haven't been there. You may ask yourself "what motivates an alcoholic to do these things just for the taste of a shot of whiskey? It's a good question but one even the alcoholic himself cannot answer.

Perhaps you could ask Joe. Joe's a family man who is a skilled laborer and has managed to provide a modest home for his wife and two children. He's like millions of other American men trying to make a living and find a little peace and quiet. With one exception. Every day Joe has his first beer at 6 a.m.

The first beer is always the best, Joe says, because it helps settle your stomach which is pretty upset from the night before. At 10 a.m., while fellow workers stop for coffee or a soft drink, Joe runs down to the nearest grocery store for a couple of beers; at lunch time he has two more. A stop at the local bar after work for "a few with the boys" brings Joe's total to eight beers—and it's only 6:30 in the evening. And then of course he needs a couple of brews with dinner and maybe a few while watching television. When the beer runs out, Joe reaches for the bottle of bourbon...

By the time Johnny Carson walks across the screen, Joe has passed out in his favorite easy chair. With the help of their son, Joe's wife gets him to the bedroom, undresses him and puts him to bed. She smiles bitterly and tells herself that although Joe may like a "little beer now and then, he's a good man and he always gives her enough money. What's the harm in a few beers? She's wrong. Joe's an alcoholic. Bill's wife is not as lucky as Joe's. Bill beats his wife—not every night but maybe two or three times a week. Bill's children try to stay away from him when he's drinking because he usually begins shouting and cursing and slapping them around.

Then there was the time Bill spent his salary on a three-day drunk and his wife had to pick him up at the police station. His kids had to go to school without lunch money, but they were glad because "at least the old man wasn't home to beat the hell out of me".

Bill's had three different jobs in one year and last week his wife had to get a job to pay the rent and buy the food. Right out of a soap opera, you say? No, Bill lives in Bay St. Louis. He's what most people call a mean drunk—to put it politely, Bill's an alcoholic.

Ann should be a very happy person. Her husband is an engineer and theirs is a happy marriage. They have three children and live comfortably. Ann and her husband have a full social life and are considered "social drinkers". At least that's what Ann's husband says. Ann's an alcoholic.

She's a secret drinker who hides a bottle of gin in her clothes closet. She tells herself that her first martini (at 9 a.m.) is to "pick her up, get her going so she can do the housework or go to a meeting". She seldom drinks when she's out but usually spends her afternoons in her den sipping martinis—six before supper.

Somehow, she manages to pull herself together before her husband comes home. After dinner, and before bedtime, she makes a few trips to the bedroom for quick gulps out of the hidden bottle. Before going to bed she makes a promise to herself that she will stop drinking tomorrow. The next day she buys another bottle of gin.

Three people, all very different but sharing one common problem—alcoholism. The alcoholic knows what he does, knows he is wrong. But as Blakeslee said, "knowing all this, they can't stop!"

"The unhappiest person in the world is the chronic alcoholic who has an insistent yearning to enjoy life as he once knew it, but cannot picture life without alcohol. He has a heart-breaking obsession that by some miracle of control he will be able to do so." This is a quote from a pamphlet published by Alcoholics Anonymous, an organization that has probably done more to help the alcoholic than any other group.

AA has one purpose—to bring sobriety to the alcoholic. How? One day at a time. (Next week: A look at AA, what it does for the alcoholic and why it has been successful)

Our readers write

Dear Editor:
A group of our friends, who are property owners, were discussing the so-called Ordinance No. 67 seen in your paper, signed by a clerk Dan Campion of Waveland. Now we as property owners, living out of State, wish to express our opinion on this: first we do agree, property owners, should with some pride keep their property looking neat and clean; but now here is our complaint, perhaps like "the kettle, calling the pot black." When we have high grass covering stagnant ditches, which are in dire need of attention; roads or streets with potholes, needing filling; these politicians grasp our taxes; how they plan on slapping $300.00 fee or penalty on private property owners, who may not be deliberate by neglecting their weed-eating-their own private possession, whereby the general public, should not trespass, thereby no danger to the public, except in rare cases, maybe a small fire, which in many cases, arson could be suspected; yet these public ditches which we see small children looking for frogs; could be bitten by snakes, or fall into a more dangerous menace to their "health and safety," so glibly stated in this recent public notice.

Seems like even politicians, should take heed, and practice what they preach.

Greg Jones
Chas. Marsh
Jas. Purdue

Dear Editor,
How can we, as true democrats and heirs-apparent to the principles and accomplishments of our forefathers, stand by and allow the sheer mockery of the democratic process recently shown at the Democratic National Convention to be condoned without making comment or trying to correct the grave and blatant injustice that has been committed against the democratic process and the democrats of Mississippi?

Some readers will think that I am upset at the results of the nomination, which is not the case, but I am upset and also concerned about the activities and actions of the Mississippi Loyalist Democratic Delegation. I do not believe in controlling people but I do believe in true representation of the people. I also believe that my feelings are not controversial to those of the great majority of the democratic citizens of Mississippi, who feel that they are not a part of the national political system and that attention is paid to the average citizen only on tax paying day and on election day.

The activities and actions of the Mississippi delegation were contrary to the dignity and true feelings of the average Mississippi democrat. The majority of the Mississippi delegation acted on their own selfish convictions contrary to the rules of the party and with no intention of representing the democratic citizens of this state. Such irresponsible action should not be tolerated and every conceivable measure should be taken to preclude recurrence.

We need strong, effective leadership that is sympathetic not only toward the desires of the average citizen in state government, but also toward his or her desires in federal government. We need leadership which will not take a passive attitude toward the national affairs of our state. Let us unite in common cause to elect a delegation that would complement the state of Mississippi and one of which the citizens of Mississippi can be justly proud. A delegation with realistic standards and goals loyal to the desires of the average citizen and one which would not usurp the powers vested in it. A delegation which would be a true representation and the advocate of the Mississippi democrats and not a pseudo-delegation as we have known for the past two Democratic National Conventions.

Sincerely,
J. B. "Joe" Moore
Poyloun, Miss.

Dear Editor:
Last week I was in the Hancock General Hospital for four and one-half days.

It wasn't a very long stay. However it was long enough to make me aware of the really fine hospital facility and service we have here in Waveland County.

I would like to publicly recognize the outstanding overall condition, method of operation and friendly courteous service rendered by this facility.

I highly commend the administrator Mr. Blackledge, the hospital staff and employees for their efforts. I feel this is something that all the residents of our county can be rightfully proud of.

Sincerely,
Andre Arceneaux

Forester's Report
Timber is big business in Mississippi and Hancock County. Trees mean money in the pocket of the landowner.

According to County Forester Mike Hendry the amount of money depends upon how the land is managed. A forest management plan can mean the difference between a large or small profit.

A timber management plan is quite simple. It sets forth, in an orderly fashion, steps that may be taken to improve the quantity and quality of timber on a particular tract of land. Among some of the more essentials of proper timber management considered in the preparation of a plan are:

Areas for selective thinning and harvesting; Areas for planting, for natural seeding, for thinning, pruning, or other stand improvement protection from fire, grazing, insects and diseases; A timber-type map, suggestions for marketing the products; and other items as needed.

An actual test plot in Mississippi established in 1935 gives the managed tract 5.5 percent increase in income over the adjacent unmanaged tract.

All of us know that if any businessman could increase his income 5.5 percent or even less, he would take immediate steps to insure this increase.

Tips To Veterans And Dependents

PREPARED BY CHESTER CURVEY HANCOCK COUNTY VETERANS SERVICE OFFICER

G AND XC NUMBERS

When a veteran or a dependent files a claim with the Veterans Administration for any type of benefit their claim is assigned a claim number. The number is preceded by an "X" if the veteran is living and by an "G" if the veteran is deceased, thusly G-1 234 567 or X-1 1234567.

In a future correspondence with the VA concerning this claim, this number must be shown, since the claim will be filed under that number and not according to his or her name. For this reason it is very important that any correspondence carry this number absolutely correct. The slightest error in number would refer to another veterans claim and it could easily delay your claim for two weeks and maybe a month.

A veterans benefit check arriving on or after the last day of the period covered by the payment should be returned to the VA in the event of the payee's death and any uncashed checks should be returned in the event of the payee's death since the name would have to be forgotten to cash the check. In the case of a veterans monthly compensation or pension checks, payments are stopped effective the last day of the month prior to the veterans death. In other words, the veteran dies on the 25th of the month, his payment, his payments will be terminated effective the end of the previous month. If the widow of the veteran is eligible for benefits she will receive such benefits effective the first day of the month in which the veteran died and she will receive for the month of the veterans death an amount no less than what the veteran would have received.

World War No. 2 and Korean conflict veterans who used their loan guaranty entitlement prior to May 7, 1968, may have between $5000.00 and $6500.00 additional entitlement available for use in obtaining another GI loan. The amount of additional entitlement is determined by computing the difference between that used and $12,500.00. At the time the VA sends you (the veteran or dependent) your certificate of eligibility they also send V.A. Pamphlets 28-4, Questions and Answers On Guaranteed and Direct Loans For Veterans; 28-5 Pointers For The Veteran Home Owner and 28-6, The Home Buying Veteran. It is very important that these Pamphlets be read carefully since they will answer most of your questions and could save you time and trouble in the future with your purchase. Be sure you have read them before signing any papers.

County Agent Notes

FARM SAFETY WEEK

President Nixon has proclaimed next week (July 23-31) as National Farm Safety Week. This week is a good time for all of us to take stock as to where we stand regarding potential accidents and to correct any dangerous situations that do exist.

The theme of the week this year is "Protective Equipment - Your Defense Against Injury."

Hard hats protect your head from bumps, flying or falling objects. Use them when felling trees, repairing farm buildings.

Safety glasses or goggles protect your eyes from flying particles and objects. Use them when working in the shop, while operating under dusty conditions, applying agricultural chemicals or spray painting.

Ear muffs and plugs can protect your hearing from damage caused by prolonged exposure to noisy equipment like combines, chain saws, tractors or power mowers.

Filter masks keep dust, chaff and other particles out of your lungs when combining, haying or working in dusty fields. Cartridge respirators or gas masks should be used when applying pesticides. Use supplied air or self contained breathing devices when working in silos or manure tanks or pits.

Rubber or plastic garments will spare your skin from agricultural chemicals. Don't forget about safety shoes with metal toe caps and puncture proof soles. These can save feet and toes when handling heavy materials, felling trees, handling livestock or operating power mowers.

Agriculture is still the nation's most dangerous occupation. It is up to us to put a stop to the needless deaths and injuries. Take this week to begin a year-round safety program.

PASTURE WEEK CONTROL
Weedy pastures mean lower forage yields, slower weight gain from livestock, lower milk production and poorer quality of livestock products. You do not have to have weeds in your pastures. Several chemical herbicides are available that will get rid of the weeds.

For those of you who do not want to use a herbicide for fear of drift onto susceptible crops, there is the high speed pasture clipper. This will knock the weeds down and out of the way of the good grasses and clovers. It will prevent competition by the weeds for sunlight, plant food and moisture and result in better grazing.

It's just as simple as that, the Forester adds.

So, don't wait another year to have your timber management plan prepared. It's costing you money!

Contact County Forester Mike Hendry at 467-5456 or come by the office and let's get going on this important facet of your business.

Are you going to live longer than your money?

Maybe you're having a pretty good life now. Your credit is good, you've got a few nice clothes and a good dependable car. And if you're lucky, maybe you own your own home. But that's because you're working. What happens when you retire? You can't live on memories. It's still going to take money. Lots of money. Money that you should be saving now.

And one of the easiest ways to start putting away a few dollars for those retirement years is by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way every time you earn a little money for today, you save a little for tomorrow.

Then when the time finally comes to retire, you'll have something put away to retire to.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4 1/2% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.
Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

City-County Library Writer

The Democratic convention of last week was a mild and tepid affair compared with other political meetings through the years. There was, for instance, the one in '68, with its desperate street fighting and bloodshed, the Republican meeting in the late '30s when Wendell Wilkie was nominated by the demand of the spectators in the galleries; there was the memorable one in the mid-'20s when the nominee was finally chosen after more than a hundred ballots, and the 1908 convention when Teddy Roosevelt bolted from the Republicans and formed his own Bull Moose party.

All of these conclaves were hard-fought political battles, full of sound and fury, when the Old Ship of State tacked to and fro in the gales of intrigue and political oratory. But the Number One split in the Democratic party was over the slavery question in the convention in 1860 at Charleston, S.C., and it was led by a delegate from Mississippi, a politician and influential journalist, Ethelbert Barksdale of Jackson.

On the first day of the convention, Barksdale attempted to put through a resolution with the credentials committee which would have barred those States in which there was a single contested seat. In this he was singularly unsuccessful; one of the leaders commented that "Barksdale did not exhibit any very striking qualities as a tactician today."

But when the big issue of the convention came up, on the fifth day, his speech upholding southern rights was vivid, forceful, and had a "profound effect" upon the convention. In the face of his arguments, however, the delegates of Stephen A. Douglas, who controlled the convention by a small majority, voted in favor of the northern sentiment. Thereupon the delegations of six southern States, including that of Mississippi, withdrew from the convention.

The dissenters then organized their own convention, and Barksdale worked hard to get some order out of the confusion, but to no avail. The main meeting broke up because they couldn't agree on a candidate, and everybody went home. A State convention at Jackson then reaccepted Barksdale and the other delegates to a new meeting in Baltimore where again there was a split and Barksdale and the other southern supporters set up a stand in the Front Street Theatre and, probably in desperation, nominated Breckinridge for President. At the subsequent election Lincoln won, although the combined vote for the three Democrats—Breckinridge, Bell and Douglas—was about a million more than his.

Barksdale was elected to the Confederate Congress in 1861 and again in 1863, and he attained the rank of major in the army. After the war he returned to his farm in Rankin county and later became editor of the Jackson Clarion and engaged in several reform movements including the impeachment of Gov. Ames in 1876. He served two terms in the U.S. House of Representatives. He was defeated for the U.S. Senate in 1891, and died a year later.

Letters to the editor are always welcome. They should be on pertinent topics, in good taste and limited to 300 words. The Sea Coast Echo requires also that each letter be properly signed by the writer before it will be considered for publication. No letters unsigned or containing pseudonyms will be published.

BRIDGE WINNER
Winners of games played Monday night by Bay-Waveland Bridge Club members were Mr. and Mrs. V.A. Bradshaw, first; Miss Amelia Scaffidi, first; Richard Gilbert second; Mrs. Winnie Pennington and Mrs. Royce Williams, third.

Trumpets In The Morning

by Perry D. Neal, Pastor
First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis

SAY IT!
The great servant of the Lord, D. W. Spillman, wrote this, which would lighten many loads and brighten many roads - if put into practice:
"You have a friend - a man, a woman, a boy or a girl. For some reason you love him very much. Have you ever told him so? Perhaps he would like to have you say it.
"Your friend has helped you along the way in the days gone by. Gratitude is in your heart. Do not let it lie buried there - say it.
"Some joy has come his way. You rejoice with him. But he will never know it unless you say it.
"An honor comes to him. He wins in the game of life and you are glad - say it.

"Your friend succeeds in some task which he has undertaken. You feel a grateful pride that he has done it - say it.
"A sorrow comes his way. He may have lost his property. Some of his loved ones may have gone wrong. Disease may have laid its hand on him, taking away the glow of health. You would share the sorrow with him - say it.
"Old age, or perhaps a breakdown in the human machinery, may shut in your friend so that he can no longer face forth among his fellows. Perhaps the end draws near. In your heart you wish him bon voyage as he hears the sunset gale. A word of kindly sympathy would brighten the way - say it.
"The messenger of death may have knocked at his door and borne away into the unseen world some loved one. A word of sympathy would help to lighten the load and brighten the way - say it.
"A personal word, a telephone call, a postcard, a letter, a telegram, and only a few minutes of time! Silent sympathy. Your own life may be better because of it; but your friend may go to the end of the journey and never know. You may add to the joy; you may lighten the load; you may brighten the way if you only take time to say it."

Camp Ending For Special Students

An Open House is planned Friday at the completion of the summer school and camp for students of the Children's Center for Special Education in Clermont Harbor.

Mrs. Arnette Giles, teacher and director of the seven-week camp, has announced that the public is cordially invited to visit the school in Clermont Harbor Friday from 12:30 to 4 p.m., where arts and crafts by the children will be on display.

The daily camp began June 1 and was attended by 21 Water Safety instructor in Bay children who are regular students in the Children's Center for Special Education. The camp was operated free of charge and was conducted by Mrs. Giles, Mrs. Iris Hughes, a regular teacher at the school, as well as Timothy Lenchak and Thomas Heding, St. in Clermont Harbor.

seminarians from St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis.

Fraters Lenchak and Heding worked with the children as athletic directors during the spring months, preparing them for the Special Olympics competitions held in Gulfport and Hattiesburg.

In the summer camp the children had daily arts and crafts classes, as well as physical education, sports and academic courses.

Mrs. Ann Porter, Red Cross St. Louis, opened her private pool three days a week to the children for swimming instruction which all the young students thoroughly enjoyed.

The Children's Center school is located in the former Lakeshore School on Forrest and Thomas Heding, St. in Clermont Harbor.

FREE TIME during swimming classes is enjoyed by children attending the summer camp school at the Children's Center for Special Education in Clermont Harbor. Camp activities included swimming sessions three days a week, donated by Mrs. Ann Porter, Red Cross Water Safety instructor, who was assisted by camp counselors Tim Lenchak and Tom Heding. ## Cynics, Beware!

There is one Bay St. Louis resident who fits Oscar Hammerstein's description of a "cockeyed optimist".

Clarence Knott, 53, who resides at 421 Carroll Ave., has voluntarily donated money to Hancock County. He returned a $32 check (payment for serving on the Grand Jury) to Circuit Clerk Lamar Otis. To say the least, this action was unprecedented and Mr. Otis was a little befuddled. Refreshing, isn't it?

The Veterans Administration advises veterans planning to travel or establish residence abroad to bear in mind certain limitations on their rights to benefits.

yet, take a Sunday drive over there yourself. Ocean Springs has been listed by a number of publications as one of the best places to make your home if you want to live a beautiful, peaceful life where almost no crime exists. Couldn't we learn a lot from that little town? We will only receive from this locality what we put into it. That is the law of natural exchange.

Copionics: Resources Sufficient For Survival

by Jean Edwards
 Neighborhood Ecology Center
 COPIONICS?

Until now, the trend of ecological thought has been based on the presumption that the resources of this planet are insufficient for all its inhabitants.

This thinking has actually been part of the problem. Science has been thinking in terms of how to cope with limited resources. We have been trying to play "Christ".

notice

"Coast Electric Power Association has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, or be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities. Under this Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the ground of race, color or national origin in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including rates, conditions and extension of service, use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meetings of beneficiaries and participants or the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operations of this organization."

"Any person who believes himself, or any specific class of individuals, to be subjected by this organization to discrimination prohibited by Title VI of the Act and the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder may, by himself or a representative, file with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, or the Rural Electrification Administration Washington, D.C. 20250, or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Such complaint must be filed not later than 90 days after the alleged discrimination, or by such later date to which the Secretary of Agriculture of the Rural Electrification Administration extends the time for filing. Identity of complainants will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the Rules and Regulations."

dividing a few loaves of bread and fish into enough to feed millions. Miracles should be left to God. We should start thinking in terms of how to use what is here in sufficient supply.

"Sufficient" is the key word in this philosophy called "Copionics" developed by Arthur Shaw; "Sufficient", not "abundant": It is learning to live as part of the earth, working in the flow of life, taking only what we need and wasting nothing.

One might be curious as to how a man with a well-applanced home, big car and a savings account might react to this philosophy. Copionics explains how the security of knowing that our world and our lives are amazing sufficient puts the big "house and car dream" in its proper perspective. "No one need want more than that...the lives of all of us would be full and fulfilled."

You ask how all this will change our lives? I think the expression of free-flow that man will see and enjoy will create for him the realization that he can enlarge himself in terms of feeling, in terms of idea, in terms of expression, in matters that have real meaning," says Shaw in an interview with Zygote Magazine.

The idea of Copionics, that there is plenty for all the inhabitants of the planet, is not an idea of a give-away program or foreign-aid. It is an expression of "natural exchange". What is meant by "natural exchange"? It is when two parties benefit from a free trade, no profit, no loss nor tariff involved. It is not a new concept but one as old as man. It is simply, man relearning to take his place in the balance of nature, neither taking more nor less than his share.

Natural exchange occurs in our relationship with plants for the air we breathe; they, supplying us with oxygen, we, supplying them with carbon dioxide. Natural exchange is when a friend from up-state gives you a bushel of vegetables and you give him a sack of oysters, or when you share your fishing camp with someone in the summer and in the winter he shares his skilodge with you. It is when, in the spring, you put a lot of time, hard work and a little money into making a garden plot and reaping at harvest time what the good earth has provided for you to eat. The exchange does not have to be immediate. Sometimes we have to give before we can benefit. We invest for future survival.

This town has deluded itself long enough with the idea of bringing in industry and commerce and creating jobs. It's always trying to make itself something it's not and never can be. It's time to face up to the fact that its potential lies in its graceful and quiet charm, its quaintness, its history, its beauty, its waters and its ability to provide the regular driver's license when driving a pick-up with a "P" tag if he used the truck for private purposes or for recreation and pleasure. This means that only those people who drive their pick-ups commercially, or while conducting their business, will have to get a commercial license. A pick-up truck owner's wife, children and other occasional driver of the truck can still use a regular license.

The same driver's license policy will be followed by Natchez Trace Parkway officials in allowing use of regular license with a "P" tag for the same, private, recreational and pleasure uses allowed on state roads and highways.

In addition to changing the tag requirements for pick-ups, the provisions of House Bill 1185 also apply to larger trucks. The big difference is that tag costs will increase for any tag with a gross weight higher than 10,000 lbs. The raised cost for heavy tags applies to both "F" and "P" tags.

THE YOUTH

DETENTION CENTER
We have inspected the Youth Detention Center and find it in good condition, but again we recommend that the Sheriff should be moved out of these facilities and adequate space be provided in the main courthouse building.

THE COUNTY HOME
We have inspected the Home for the Aged and find that the Home is in excellent condition and Mr. and Mrs. Prickett are to be commended on the operation of this fine center for the aged of Hancock County. The Grand Jury does recommend, however, that the grass around the home for the aged be cut on a regular basis.

THE HOSPITAL
The Grand Jury has inspected the Hancock General Hospital and recommends that, due to the volume of traffic throughout the hospital, greater attention be paid to the cleaning of the hospital floors; that the large broken window pane which is located in the maintenance or boiler room at the hospital be replaced, and that the hospital boiler room door be secured at all times except when being entered by authorized personnel.

JUROR'S PAY

We, the grand jury recommend that our legislators introduce proper legislation, at the next regular term of the State Legislature to increase payment of juror fees to the citizens of Hancock County; said increase to be not less than the current minimum hourly wage for an eight hour work day. We have found that many jurors "lose" pay from their jobs while on jury duty and they are thereby suffering financial hardship as jurors.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS
With crime on the increase, there is little comfort to the citizens of Hancock County to know that at present, only one deputy sheriff is on duty for the entire county during each eight hour shift. We strongly recommend to the Board of Supervisors that the Sheriff's office be provided with funds to employ a minimum of two deputy sheriffs per eight hour shift plus two relief deputies in order to provide the regular deputies with at least one day off each week. We further recommend that each Sheriff's car be equipped with a polaroid camera to provide and preserve visual evidence concerning accidents, unlawful entries and so forth, and the Sheriff's Office should be provided a tape recorder for documenting statements and evidence in all criminal investigations.

We, the grand jury, do hereby request again, that a Federal investigation be made into the possible misuse of Federal Funds in Hancock County since Hurricane Camille.

We, the Grand Jury, note that there has been no report on any action taken regarding the recommendations of previous grand juries. We strongly recommend that the instant report be made public; and that it be published in its entirety in two newspapers in general circulation throughout Hancock County, and that the results of all action taken on our recommendations be made available to the next succeeding grand jury when it convenes in January, 1973, so that the next grand jury will be in a position to determine which recommendations have been acted upon by the proper authorities.

We, the Grand Jury, recommend that each of the Justice of the Peace in the County be required to enter in their court docket book each case and its disposition and that on all cases where an accused has been bound over by the Justice of the Peace to await Grand Jury action, the Justice of the Peace should immediately notify the Circuit Clerk of these cases, furnishing the Circuit Clerk with a list of all witnesses known in the case and their addresses, in order to avoid the confusion that exists under the present system. We recommend that all law enforcement personnel involved in cases that are to be presented to the Grand Jury be required to furnish the Circuit Clerk with a list showing the charge involved, a description of the physical evidence, its location, value, serial number and model number when applicable. We, the Grand Jury, recommend that when a subpoena for a witness or a summons for a juror is sent through the mail, it should be sent Certified Mail with a Return Receipt Requested.

We, the Grand Jury, recommend that the Circuit Clerk take special care in preparing the next grand jury docket so that all the cases that are to be presented to the grand jury are documented and numbered, and have all available information concerning said cases in the grand jury room to speed up the process of handling each case. The Grand Jury recommends that the State Auditor should make available to all future Grand Jurys all reports prepared by his office of the financial condition of Hancock County.

The Grand Jury fully supports the Board of Supervisors and all other elected officials in their efforts seeking the return of the Mississippi Test Facility Buffer Zone to the tax rolls of Hancock County.

The Grand Jury strongly recommends that all witnesses and jurors who are summoned by this County but do not appear, should have a valid reason for his absence and failure to so provide the Court with a valid reason, should result in a fine being imposed by the Court.

The Grand Jury recommends that a copy of this report be mailed to every elected official of Hancock County; to each State Legislator representing Hancock County; to each of the heads of the law enforcement agencies in Hancock County; to each of the Justice of the Peace in the County; to the District Attorney's Office; and to the two newspapers with general circulation in the County; and further that a copy of this Grand Jury Report and the previous Grand Jury Report be made available to each member of the 1973 Grand Jury on the day that it is empaneled.

We, the Grand Jury, do hereby request that all of our recommendations be regarded with the seriousness in which this grand jury has made them. We have spent much time and effort preparing this Report and investigating the cases presented to us; therefore we recommend that each department or agency referred to in this report be required to make a full report to the next Grand Jury commencing in January 1973.

We wish to thank Honorable Harry G. Walker for his fine charge to us and for his courtesies during our service, and for his able charge to us at our empanelment.

We wish to express our appreciation to Mr. Lamar Otis and his staff for their assistance to us.

We wish to thank Mr. Rutherford the Chancey Clerk for his assistance to us.

We wish to thank the Sheriff and his staff for their assistance to us during our tenure.

We wish to thank all other law enforcement officers who appeared before us and presented their cases to us.

We wish to thank the District Attorney, Albert Nacaise, and his Assistant, Harold J. DeMetz, for assisting us during our deliberations.

We have enjoyed our service as a Grand Jury and recommend to all citizens of Hancock County to serve when called upon to be a juror.

AND NOW, having fully completed our labors, we respectfully beg to stand finally discharged.

This 13th day of July, A.D., 1972.

organization is financed through private collections and arrangements or by the state, according to the social structure of the country. The stay in the village is paid for by the host country, the transportation by the invited country.

The Gulf Coast CISV will mark its official opening with dedication ceremonies this Saturday at 4 p.m. at which Gov. William Waller has been invited to speak. The children will dress in national costumes and will present a program for entertainment.

The Gulfport Junior Auxiliary will be hostesses at a reception in the delegates' honor.

August 5 is the official closing day of the village and has been designated as Visitors' Day for local residents.

In addition, the delegates will take a boat trip on the Wolfe River, tour the Mississippi Test Facility, visit the Deer Ranch and the Marine Life, and shop in Edgewater Mall.

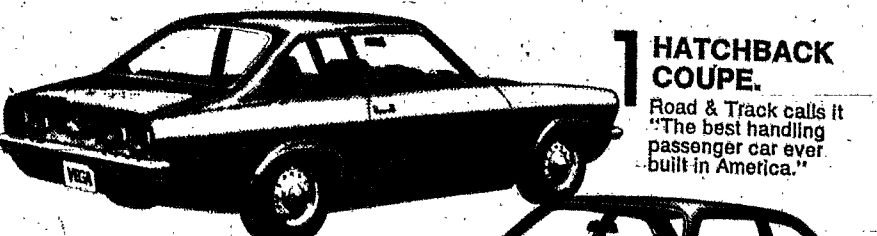

Arts and crafts and various sports will occupy much of the delegates' time, and skits will be presented on designated national days. On national days, two delegations will work together to provide an evening's entertainment for the village representative of their cultures.

On July 29-30, the delegates will visit in the homes of local families where they will see American customs in action. The last day of the village will be August 9.

Three Long Beach residents are delegates at a CIS Village on the Maryville College campus in Townsend, Tenn., for the next four weeks also. The 11-year-old delegates are Lisa Pierce, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Patrick L. Pierce, and Cruise Jones, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Jones. Participating as an adult delegate is Marcelle Dessommes, a sixth grade teacher at Green Acres Elementary School.

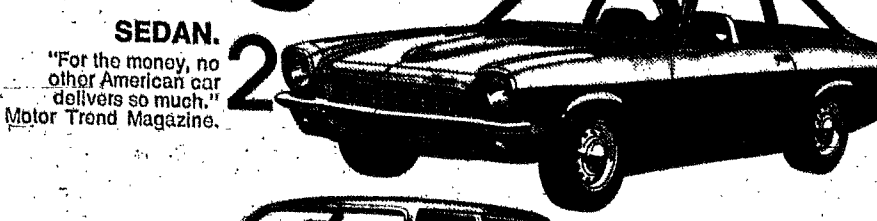

The two other Coast delegates to Townsend, approximately 80 miles from Knoxville, Tenn., are Cynthia Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newman of Gulfport, and Ernest Brune, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Brune of Ocean Springs.

Shower Given Miss Rayborn

A bridal tea-shower Thursday evening, July 6, at the J.B. Levens home on Whispering Pines Drive, complimented Miss Gail Rayborn, bride-elect of Bart Carr.

The couple will be married at 8 p.m., Friday, July 21, at First Baptist Church.

Hostesses for this pre-nuptial affair were Mrs. J.B. Levens and Mrs. James A. Fillingame.

Miss Rayborn was attired in a rust and cream-print jersey from her trousseau with a pale green chrysanthemum corsage presented her by the hostesses. The mothers, Mrs. Talnadge Rayborn and Mrs. James Triviera, received similar corsages.

The table overlaid with gold net, carried out the pale green color theme with a centerpiece of chrysanthemums flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapered dripped-with-green.

JOIN THE CLEANUP CAMPAIGN

Girls love bananas! Not only kids but grown-ups, too. So, now the home economists at the Dole banana kitchens have combined bananas and peanut butter in a great tasting family-type dessert.

Peanutty Banana Crunch is so tasty and easy to make you'll want to serve it often. Sweet, mellow bananas are simply sliced and put into a baking dish, covered with a peanut butter crumb topping, then baked.

Dress up this home-style dessert with a topping of ice cream for a scrumptious company dessert. Or, serve at a birthday party in place of cake.

PEANUTTY BANANA CRUNCH

- 6 Dole bananas, peeled and thinly sliced
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 cup chunky style peanut butter
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup brown sugar

Sprinkle bananas with lemon juice and cinnamon. Place in 8-inch square baking dish. Cut peanut butter with butter, flour and brown sugar until crumbly. Spoon over bananas. Bake in 400°F. oven for 30 minutes. Makes 5 to 6 servings. Serve warm with cream or vanilla ice cream.

Collier-Fayard Wed In Ceremony

Miss Deborah Sue Fayard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norvin J. Fayard of Bay St. Louis, became the bride July 1 of Thaddeus L. Collier Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Collier Sr., also of this city.

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. John Gallagher, associate pastor.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white street length shantung dress fashioned on empire lines. The bodice featured short lace sleeves with a band of lace accenting the empire waistline. Her short veil of illusion fell from a large band, retrimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white daisies.

Miss Sherry Millam of Bay St. Louis served as maid of honor. She wore a blue polyester knit A-line dress and carried a cascade of pink daisies.

Eddie Osbourne Jr., Bay St. Louis, attended the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Mrs. Fayard received their guests wearing a peach tone polyester knit dress with beige accessories and a corsage of peach carnations. The mother of the groom chose a blue dotted Swiss dress, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, held a four-tiered cake topped with the traditional bride and groom. For her wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a green polyester knit suit trimmed in lace, white accessories, and a corsage of yellow flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Bay Senior High. The groom, a graduate of Bay High, attended Pearl River Junior College and is presently serving with the U.S. Naval Reserves aboard the U.S.S. Lexington.

KABOB COOKERY

Kabob cookery is one of the oldest known to civilization. As primitive man tried to find a method of cooking meat without burning it or himself, he noticed that if impaled on a wooden spear and held over the fire or coals, a piece of meat became tasty and done to a turn.

Later the kabob and skewer method was a boon to nomadic people whose weapons doubled as cooking equipment and whose food supply was of necessity portable. Today all manner of food is skewered and cooked over the charcoal or in the broiler. And just as the utensil used may be as simple as the green wooden stick of the camper or as elaborate as the silver handled skewer of the gourmet, the food skewered can range from frankfurters to lobster. Indeed, the combinations of ingredients used is about as varied as the spelling of the word kabob.

Kabob recipes are important in the repertoire of everyone who enjoys cooking over charcoal or campfire. I offer two that show the versatility of this method. Penny pincher kebabs are of the hearty family-style variety. They are made with an interesting combination of inexpensive turkey roll, bacon, tomatoes and pimiento-stuffed olives. The low-cost dish gets its especially satisfying flavor from the salty tang of the olives, which make an excellent complement to the blander flavor of the turkey roll.

Red and green Spanish olives also add a pleasing color and textural contrast. The food mellowed for several hours in a savory wine-based marinade that is used later as a sauce for the finished kebabs.

For a more elegant kabob meal Spanish Beef Kebabs combines cubes of sirloin, onion, celery, tomatoes, green peppers and pimiento-stuffed olives for a piquant Spanish accent.

PENNYPINCHER KEBABS

(Makes 6 servings)

- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 1/4 cup olive or salad oil
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 2 teaspoons pepper
- 1-1/2 pounds turkey roll (in one piece)
- 1 pound sliced bacon
- Large pimiento-stuffed olives (about 24)
- 2 ripe tomatoes, each cut into 6 wedges

To prepare marinade for turkey, stir together wine, oil, lemon juice, garlic and pepper in large shallow dish. Cut turkey roll into 1-1/4-inch cubes and toss with marinade until coated. Cover and chill 4 or more hours, turning occasionally.

Remove turkey cubes from marinade. Reserve marinade. Fry bacon just until it starts to brown at edges; drain on paper towels. Fold slices in half crosswise before placing on skewers.

To prepare kebabs, alternate turkey cubes, bacon, olives and tomato wedges on skewers. Brush with some of marinade and broil 9 to 10 inches from source of heat about 5 minutes on each side. Baste occasionally with marinade during broiling period. Serve kebabs with remaining marinade.

SPANISH BEEF KEBABS

(makes 6 servings)

- 1 cup olive or salad oil
- 2 tablespoons dry sherry
- 1 tablespoon wine vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1-1/2 pounds beef sirloin

cut in 1-1/4-inch cubes

12 small white onions, parboiled

24 large pimiento-stuffed olives

2 large green peppers, cut in about 2-inch squares

24 cherry tomatoes

Blend oil, sherry, wine vinegar, seasonings and garlic in shallow 2 1/2 quart dish. Add beef cubes, onions and olives; turn ingredients in marinade until coated. Chill 8 hours or overnight.

Shortly before serving time, drain off marinade and reserve for basting. Place beef cubes on skewers. Alternate onions and green pepper squares on separate skewers. Alternate tomatoes and olives on skewers. Brush kebabs with marinade. Broil meat about 4 inches from source of heat on both sides until desired degree of doneness. Broil olive-tomato kebabs just until tomatoes begin to shrivel. Broil onion-green pepper kebabs until vegetables are nicely browned on outside.

Beautiful America Polluted America

OUR 'longer, fuller — better life' has begun to mock us. We are disgusted with dirty air and vile water and ugliness—that has become the backwash of modern goods and services.

We are alarmed by the warning that we are upsetting the balance of nature, causing the most pressing environmental crisis in history.

Pollution is everyone's concern. We will not renovate and rejuvenate our environment until we start moving our criticism from the living room to the legislature, and from the back fence to the ballot box.

To put more teeth in pollution controls will take the voice of the people. Your voice can contribute to a reversal of our trend toward self-destruction.

TEEN TIMES

by Lisa Bernadette

With all the good things happening to David Cassidy recently he never figured on a tragedy - his father, famed actor Jack Cassidy, and his stepmother, famed actress and co-star of David's show, The Partridge Family, Shirley Jones, are getting a divorce. When asked about it, Miss Jones just said that she and her husband felt they couldn't live together happily. Very civilized, I must say.

SAYING GOODBYE TO MY THREE SONS: Television shows come and Lisa Bernadette go, but no one thought My Three Sons would leave the airwaves. Remember when Bonnie had his first crush? And when Chip got computer-matched with a girl two heads taller than he? Who could ever forget those father-son chats Fred MacMurray used to have with a different son each week? Or Uncle Charlie with that apron he never took off. Now when I come to think of it, they should have taken that show off the air ten years ago.

SOME ARE SEEN: With the onslaught of the summer season comes the surly to the beaches by just about everyone. Girls, especially, will be out in their swimwear, and slippers bathing suits. In two-piece or the traditional tank suits of knit, velvet, seersucker and nylon, girls can be seen dotting the sands and water everywhere. But don't let blemishes "dot" your complexion this year. Instead, help your skin stay clear and healthy-looking by using a medicated soap like Foxtex and Foxtex lotion, a medicated "cover-up" that treats blemishes while it hides them. Foxtex and Foxtex provide round-the-clock skin care as they remove excess oil, and penetrate and soften plugged pores. Their drying and peeling action helps to remove blackheads and keep pores unplugged. Be a pleasant addition to the sun scene this summer!

MALO DOES WELL: Performing before a huge audience at New York's Carnegie Hall, the group "MALO" brought joy to the hearts of their fans as they sang their new hit single, "Santana." Led by George Santana, brother of already famous Carlos Santana, Malo's music resembles the Santana sound with its Afro-Latin rock beat. The ten very talented musicians who compose the group blend together the sounds of the guitar, congas, timbales, and drums and the result is a new, better-like, Latin-Progressive sound.

DYSLEXIA

About 4 million children entering the first grade this year will experience difficulty in learning to read because of a learning disability known as dyslexia. Dyslexia—the inability to read due to a disturbed functioning of the ability to perceive shapes and sounds—has become a household word in recent years. Although dyslexia has finally received public recognition as a major educational problem, it is still difficult for most people to understand the problems experienced by a child with dyslexia.

We can attempt to understand some of these problems by remembering that everyone's brain functions differently. Many of us have what may be considered a minor brain dysfunction of which we are unaware or which we consider to be an unimportant difference such as poor depth perception, tone deafness, below average coordination, or color blindness. These small impairments usually do not seriously affect our everyday lives. However, when a person's ability to clearly perceive shapes and sounds is impaired, he may become severely handicapped in our society. Since it is difficult for him to learn to read and write, he will continue to have problems in school because, for the most part, our educational system is based on learning by reading. Thus, even though a dyslexic child may be highly intelligent, have perfect eyesight, excel in sports, and have many friends, he will be handicapped in his entire educational experience. Every child who is having difficulty in reading to the extent that he is considered as reading below his grade level even though he has average or above average intelligence deserves a careful evaluation of his problem. It is important that this evaluation include careful psychological testing to determine the nature and scope of the child's problem and to help determine the most effective remedial teaching methods to be used. The remedial methods used with a child whose problem is in sound perception may be quite different from those used with a child who has difficulties in perceiving shapes. Vision testing of children with reading problems should only be included as part of a complete evaluation because while a child with dyslexia may have his vision improved with glasses and eye exercises, his reading ability will not improve because his poor reading is primarily due to a different type of problem.

Parents and teachers can do much to encourage a child with dyslexia and to help prevent emotional disturbances caused by frustrations encountered in trying to learn to read. He needs a great deal of approval and assurance that he is not stupid just because he can't read. Frequently his disability will improve with age, and it is important that he not become totally disenchanted with education and life by the time his capabilities have improved. Other opportunities for learning should be available, including reading aloud to him, movies, television, records, and field trips.

Next—Emotionally disturbed children.

Shower Honors

Bride-Elect

Sunday afternoon Miss Gail Rayborn, bride-elect of Burt Carr, was honored at a miscellaneous shower at Our Lady of the Gulf Parish Hall. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. T.R. Castor and daughter, Cathy, of Gulfport.

Mr. Carr's sisters, Mrs. James Peron, Mrs. John F. May and Misses Lillian and Cynthia Travirca, assisted with serving and games.

Unique corsages of white lace edged linen handkerchiefs tied in bright ribbons were given the honoree and the mothers, Mrs. Talmadge Rayborn and Mrs. James Travirca.

Miss Rayborn chose for the occasion a tulle dress of navy knit with navy and white accessories.

Following a number of games, the honoree opened gifts that were placed in a wishing well made by the hostesses.

The table, overlaid with a yellow and orange cloth, was centered with a cake decorated to carry out the theme "Let the Sun Shine In."

Don't overdo a good thing!

Electricity, like many other good things in life, needs to be handled wisely. That means not trying to make the wiring in your home work harder than it was designed to; checking the line cords on electrical appliances, and replacing them if necessary; and making certain that all power tools are grounded when in use. Your Electric Power Association has some other common-sense safety tips... just contact the office. Don't overdo a good thing; use electricity safely.

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

The weather has continued beautiful but warm for the past week, very little rain. Fishing was on and off. Bass and perch are still hitting and being caught most anywhere when conditions are right.

Pearl River continues to be a popular place on weekends with campers everywhere. They are coming from all places. Trailers, tents and lean-to shelters the pleasure seekers. Mosquitoes, gnats, etc. haven't been too much of a problem as yet, but there has been plenty insect repellants kept on hand.

Flounders are being caught by fishing and spearing and are rather plentiful. Soft crabs are still scarce. Very few are being picked up. Don't know the reason why.

Shrimp are making their appearance. Quite a few are being caught via the cast net route and by trawling. They are of good size. One person reported getting 100 lbs. the other night. This is good news for those who like to throw a cast net.

Funeral services were held last week for Lt. C. Tom Thum, 67, who died Friday a week ago. He was a retired U.S. Naval officer and a Clermont Harbor resident. He was an ardent fisherman and sportsman.

There are plenty crappie (Sac-a-lait, White Perch) up Pearl River just now. They are caught best on live minnows or other live baits by still fishing in tree tops or other objects in the water. They can also be caught on the fly rod when using a black gnat and spinner or kindred baits. Crappie is a very popular game fish and has a good food value. Average weight is around 1 1/2 pounds but grow to around 2 1/2 or 3 pounds.

Speaking of crappie Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wright of Picayune, made a nice catch of them Saturday using live minnows. They were worth seeing. This young couple are ardent fishermen and spend plenty time after the finny tribe. They are new comers to Picayune.

Yours truly has been invited to attend a pre-fishing rodeo trip at Empire, La. aboard the boat "The Mississippian" a 65 ft. charter boat on July 30 as a member of the press. It will be a swell trip with eats and drinks on the house. Whoopie! More on this later.

Met a real fisherman in Hattiesburg over the weekend, Earl Nix. He does all kind of fishing but I think fresh water fishing is his favorite. Uses mostly spinning rod. Crappie, green trout and perch are his meat. His fishing buddy is W.C. Garner. His wife also fishes.

Going through Necaise Crossing to Hattiesburg saw an old dove hunter, Jack Harrel, after long time no see. Jack was a boy when we hunted doves in Necaise Crossing. Was a pleasure seeing him. Jack still hunts and fishes. His wife is also a fisherman who catches plenty fish down our way.

Spent the day on Serene Lake at Hattiesburg with M. F. Cass, there are five lakes, north Lake, West Lake, South Lake, Cass Lake and East Lake. They cover about 3500 acres. There are approximately 95 beautiful homes, called retirement paradise of Miss. No trash anywhere in the water. They are private and only fishable by property owners and guests. A beautiful sight to see.

At Mother Goose Village... Favorite Nursery Rhyme Characters Come To Life

A Rock City artist creates a scene to enchant visitors to Mother Goose Village.

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN, Georgia — For more than two and a half centuries, the nursery rhymes of Mother Goose have sprung to life from the pages of picture books to delight the imaginations of countless millions of youngsters.

Now, in a place called Fairyland Caverns — on Lookout Mountain near Chattanooga, Tenn., children are able actually to walk into the world of Mother Goose and see the nursery rhyme characters they know so well acting out their familiar scenes.

The unique creation is Mother Goose Village, the world's most complete presentation of Mother Goose nursery rhymes. It is located at Rock City Gardens, a ten-acre natural preserve that attracts half a million people each year to view its scenic beauty.

The entire setting for Mother Goose Village and each of the more than a hundred nursery rhyme characters were created at Rock City's own studio, and each is an original. Youngsters view them by walking around a huge landscape crowned by a tall castle, which looks out over hills and valleys with streams and waterfalls, where the various storybook scenes are taking place.

They see such old friends as Humpty Dumpty, Little Bo Peep and her sheep, Little Miss Muffet, Jack and Jill falling down the hill and even the cow jumping over the moon. The colorful scenes are illuminated by ultra-violet, or "black" light, to add to the magical quality of the presentation.

Mother Goose Village is the newest addition to Fairyland Caverns, where additional fairy tales are recreated, including Snow White, Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk, Little Red Riding Hood, Goldilocks and the Three Bears and many others. And Santa Claus stops at Fairyland Caverns each December to have a personal chat with each young visitor. Information on Mother Goose Village and Fairyland Caverns may be obtained by writing to P.O. Box 173, Chattanooga, Tenn. 37401.
